Special to the APPEAL

Lynching Feared.

Stockton, Sept. 10th.—Constable Masterson of San Andreas arrived this morning with the Italian Antonio Pattie, who shot Miss Mabel Wheeler at Copperopolis Wednesday night. Last night Constable Masterson learned that an attempt would probably be made to hang the Italian, and he brought the assassin to Stockton. At last accounts Miss Wheeler was alive, but her condition is said to be very critical. Constable Masterson says crowds of men came into San Andreas about 6 o'clock last evening, presumably with the intention of hanging the prisoner.

Floods in Asia.

Yokohama, Sept. 10.—Terrible floods are sweeping the interior. 60 people sought refuge in a school house which was swept away with its occupants. All were drowned except a woman and her child. The water is still rising and the flat sections resemble large lakes.

A Railway Collision.

A Boy With a Future.

Senator Stewart sent an elegant life size photograph to be presented to the Nevada State University. He was unable to be at hand himself when the picture arrived and selected his private secretary Chas. J. Kappler to present the picture with his compliments. The Reno Journal published his entire speech and speaks of him as follows:

Mr. Kappler, who is an adopted son of the silver State, is a most pleasing speaker. His remarks were thoughtful, elegant in diction and eloquent in delivery. When years of experience have been added to his manifest ability he will be a speaker of more than ordinary ability.

In ordinary conversation Mr. Kappler has a pleasant and earnest delivery that strikes the listener as extremely original. He has a wonderful memory and has committed thirty two famous speeches made in Congress and many rare literary gems.

"Big Betsy's" Partner.

Last evening a special train of ten cars bearing the armament for the war vessel Monterey arrived in Reno. The ordnance, which includes one twelve-inch rifle, the mate of "Big Betsy," two ten-inch guns with mounts and cranes, weigh over 390,000 pounds. The guns are painted white to prevent rusting and are mounted on specially constructed flat cars. No shells, projectiles or powder are on the shipment train, which pulled out about 7 o'clock p. m., and will arrive at its destination today.—Gazette.

THUGS AND THIEVES.

The Town is Overrun With Them And a Halt Must be Called.

Within the last four weeks several very peculiar incidents have occurred in the criminal channels of Ormsby county and not the slightest clue has ever been obtained in regard to any single one of them.

A man by the name of Thomas O'Hare was beaten until insensible by a blunt instrument and robbed. He afterwards died of his injuries and never even regained consciousness to make a statement. The murderers have never been apprehended although $500 reward was offered for information leading to their conviction. Not a word has been heard of them since and it is quite probable that there never will be.

Cal. Knapp's house was robbed while his wife in company with another lady was engaged in picking ducks in the back yard. Several men were arrested on suspicion who afterwards were released through lack of evidence to convict.

Shortly after this affair A. D. Treadway was relieved of $2 10 while he was asleep and the thieves attempted to kill his dog. Not the slightest fragment of evidence could be secured and up to date the same mystery surrounds it.

The next raid was made on the room of Tom Rickey's stableman, who sleeps in the barn in the rear of the Rickey residence, was suddenly awakened by two men who presented revolvers to his head and commanded him to surrender what money and valuables he had in his possession. He had $3.95 in coin and a gold watch, which he delivered to the robbers, and they departed. Of the robbers Ole says one was a large man and the other short in stature, both being masked. It seems Ole sent $600, which he had accumulated, to the old folks in Denmark night before last.

Night before last Ah Eling who works for Geo. Mills; After leaving his work started for Chinatown, and when passing the Capitol was struck on the head and badly cut with some sharp instrument.

He recovered his senses after a few minutes and reported the matter to the Sheriff. The hat he wore was cut through and his head is badly lacerated.

He is a cousin to Albert of Quong Hing & Co.

This happened in the heart of the city and the person who handled the job is as obscure as morality at a prize fight. The next in regular order will probably be incendiarism and the sacking of the ruins. There was a time not many years ago when an arson fiend was strung up by the 601 and if these burglars do not cease the same method of handling the law might be resorted to.

Every suspicious character should be given 6 hours to leave town or thrown into the county jail.

These affairs are becoming too numerous and it's time to call a halt.
